

Why use People Manager application

- Allows efficiently allocate human resources and manage customer projects
- Helps optimize project costing and accurately manage project portfolios, releases and business demands
- Ensures time tracking of the progress of work, costs, projects and capacity in the real time
- Serves for teamwork with wide range of users in different job roles.

People Manager application is designed for project and human resources management. It has a modular structure and is focused on easy, intuitive and ergonomic work with user friendly design.

Resource Manager console clearly shows planned volume of the work, capacities and utilization of resources

People Manager provides users with a wide range of features and options. It enables easy application customization according to demands of the users, their needs and habits. The development team has used wide experiences of the project management, including modern trends in project and resource management.

A powerful tool for key workers

The application People Manager gives your staff a powerful system for project and corporate human resources management. It can be used either as a cloud-based solution or it can be installed in the corporate environment.

- Project Manager manages projects. He demands workers with the necessary skills.
- Resource Manager manages the utilization of the team. He allocates staff according to the project managers needs.
- Reporting staff report the finished work. They ask for time off.
- Company Management manages the company, he checks the profitability of the projects including effective use of the human resources and capacity. He takes corrective action when necessary.

Benefits for you

- Easy and quick deployment into the enterprise environment
- Extensive customization and configuration functions
- Possibility of the integration with other corporate systems
- Simple assignment of user roles
- Intuitive user friendly solution
- High security
- Automatic sending of notifications and reports

User friendly interface

People Manager application provides users with a simple, intuitive user-friendly graphical interface. Ergonomically designed control makes the application easier to work with. Individual tasks are greatly simplified. Responsive environment provides an optimized display including mobile devices.

Utilization of the staff are graphically comprehensibly displayed on a timeline

Effective approval processes

Approval of the requirements of the staff allocation in a projects, timesheet or time off approval is quick and easy. You can also use multiple automatic approval, which allows you to approve all time-sheets at the same time and transmit the data for further processing. This function may contribute to greater workers discipline according to deadlines for attendance reporting.

High configurability

For specific customers, you can set up specific functions including parameters, branding applications, the organizational structure of the company, classifications of activities, individual roles and types of users and more. Everything you need can set through the console administrator.

Detailed reports

People Manager solution offers a wide range of reports for different types of users. For resource managers provides the application a unique function Resources leveling with detailed overview of current and future utilization of internal and external sources. Reports can be automatically send via emails to mailboxes of users.

The modular system allows users expansion according to their real needs

Modular solutions

The modular system allows the user to deploy only those parts of the system that will be really used. Additional module is for example Time & attendance. Available are also other upgrading modules, such as Release Management, Demand Management and Portfolio management. These can also work independently without the basic system.

Contact:

Principal engineering s.r.o.
Hanusova 16, 140 00 Praha 4
peoplemanager@principal.cz
www.peoplemanager.cz

Principal engineering s.r.o. company is a provider of business consulting services for key projects in banking, telecommunications, services, manufacturing and government segments. Our customers are always looking for the best solution available. The implementation is provided by our consultants with of customer's industry knowledge, specific environment and used technologies.